Serving with Wycliffe Bible Translators
To Support Bible Translation Work in Mexico.

Did you know that there are 7,957 verses in the New Testament? The process of translating all of those accurately and clearly into a previously unwritten language can take decades. Every language has its nuances and differences from English and Spanish, and finding just the right word can be next to impossible. Add to that the challenges of learning another language, living in a different culture, sometimes facing persecution or opposition to the Word being translated and it's no wonder that some missionaries return home after just a few years. Part of Linda's work is guiding, encouraging and praying for those serving in Bible translation, that they may continue to serve for many years, so that all may hear. We appreciate your prayers for us as we serve from here in Warren.

- Faith of a Gentile (8:5-10; 13):
- Faithless Jews (8:11-12):
- What do I do with this? How is the Holy Spirit prompting me?
